Appomattox Had Bad Fire
33 Years Ago April 5

Appomattox had one of its worst fires last Thursday, April 5, when Grinels Motor Co. burned. We are indebted to Miss Emma Smith for calling to our attention the fact that exactly 33 years ago on the same date, the town had a big fire when the building occupied by T. A. Smith & Co., L. E. Smith's store and the N. & W. Deport were burned.

NEW BOOK IN THE COUNTY LIBRARY

Native Stone, by Edwin Gilbert, tells the story of three young architects whose ideals and strivings are interwoven in a fascinating fabric of contemporary life. Abby Austin was a Boston blue blood who had rebelled against strait-laced traditions of Beacon Hill. Vince Cole was a self-improved New Haven boy who was ashamed of his prosaic origins and proud that he had risen above them. Raff Bloom was the son of an Irish mother and a Jewish father and his lifelong struggle against the prejudices that were aimed at him from both sides had made him sensitive, passionate and wise. Raff was the cornerstone and the keystone of the friendship. Edwin Gilbert tells the story of what happens to Raff, Abby and Vince as they come to grips with the realities of professional architecture and with life.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

An important step towards stricter compliance with Minimum Property Requirements in the home loan program was taken last week by the Veterans Administration.

VA said it has instructed each regional office manager to appoint a qualified VA construction analyst to make sure fee compliance inspectors are carrying out their assignments of assuring that builders are conforming to plans and specifications and VA minimum property requirements.

These supervising construction analysts will have the primary duties of:

1. Making on-site inspections of properties constructed or in the process of construction for which VA has received appraisal requests and which are or have been subject to either VA inspections or Federal Housing Administration supervision.

2. Reporting on the timeliness, accuracy and completeness and all other aspects of performance by each VA compliance inspector, including any irregular relationship with builders, sponsors, or others any any evidence of improper conduct bearing on performance.

3. Determining and reporting the adequacy and quality of the exhibits against which each compliance inspector measures the degree of compliance and the quality of as-built construction at the various stages.

4. Evaluating and reporting on the adequacy and effectiveness of supervision by the builder in each particular case.

VA emphasized that, under the law, compliance with its Minimum Property Requirements is mandatory. VA's minimum requirements are the same as those of FHA.

Parents Urged To Immunize Against Polio

The following statement concerning the fight against infantile paralysis was released here yesterday:

"Your boy or girl has the best chance for protection against infantile paralysis before polio hits again, if vaccine is given now. The Salk vaccine strikingly reduced paralytic polio among those who received it in 1955 and it will protect many thousands in 1956, if it is used widely and in time.

"To make a real dent in polio in 1956, vaccination must be stepped up immediately. Success will depend on how many children receive at least two vaccine shots before the next polio season begins.

"You will want to ask your own doctor's advice. He has the latest information on the polio vaccine. The doctors have Salk vaccine for their patients. Those eligible to receive it at present are in the age group 1 through 19 years.

"As long as the supplies are limited, young children must have priority. When supplies are increased, the age limit will also be increased, first than two-thirds of paralytic polio occurs in the above age group.

Dr. Jenkins, Health Director of the Southside Health District, urges parents of all children who are at present eligible, up through 19 years of age, to have their children immunized against polio as soon as possible. This may be done by your own doctor or at a Health Department public clinic. The latter clinics are held regularly in the four counties, Appomattox, Buckingham, Cumberland, and Prince Edward. Information regarding these clinics may be obtained by telephone to the respective Health Department office."

Demonstration Club Schedule

Schedule of Appomattox Home Agent for next week:

Tuesday, April 17.- The Liberty Chapel Home Demonstration Club will meet at 7:30 P. M. with Mrs. A. W. Covington. The demonstration will be on "Short Cuts in House Cleaning."

Wednesday, April 18.- District III, Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs will meet at Longwood College, Farmville. Registration will begin at 9:30 A. M., and the program will begin at 10:00 A. M. District III is composed of the counties of Amherst, Appomattox, Campbell, Charlotte, Halifax, Nelson, Pittsylvania and Prince Edward. An interesting program has been planned and it is hoped that a large representation from each county will attend.

Thursday, April 19.- 4-H Club District Contests will be held at Longwood College, beginning at 9:30 A. M. 4H members entering these district contests are busy making preparations for demonstration and judging events.

LIONS-CLUB MEETING

The Appomattox Lions Club will meet this evening at 6:45, at Maud's Hot Shop. Films taken at the 1955 Lions International will be shewn at this meeting.

THE LEE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Lee Home Demonstration Club held its April meeting in the home of Mrs. H. A. Torrence on April 3. After the regular routine of business the Federation Goal Leader, Mrs. W. D. Morris, discussed the pamphlet, "Highway Safety Begins at Home," as our club is stressing "Safety" this month. The Federation Goal Leader also conducted a safety quiz on the Motor Vehicle Laws of Virginia. The club members were divided into two groups, one group competing against the other. The ones taking part on the quiz were: Group No. 1—Mrs. Nellie Beale, Mrs. Madeline Inge. Group No. 2Mrs. Helen Faye Coleman, Mrs. Pearl Hamilton. Both groups proved to be very familiar with the safety laws of the state, but one of the aims in home demonstration work is to keep on stressing safety in every possible way until accidents in Virginia are greatly reduced. There was a general discussion on safety, after which a pamphlet entitled, "Safe or Sorry?" was distributed among the members.

One of the club members, Mrs. Helen Faye Coleman, drove in the Braking and Reaction Test sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs of Appomattox County April 4, and did a good job.

The demonstartion for the month on "Short Cuts in House Cleaning" was given by Mrs. Nellie Beale and Mrs. Helen Faye Coleman.
